DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-6 are pending.

The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103© and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1626

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 1 and dependent claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The phrase "A method for preparing hydroxyalkylcarbamate compositions" reads on numerous carbamates which is broader than the enabling disclosure. The specification has support for carbamate compositions of the depicted formulas on page 4, lines 1-2 and lines 14-15. As claimed, the phrase can read on any hydroxyalkylcarbamate composition which is broader than the enabling disclosure of the specification.

By inserting the structural formula of the specification with all the substituents properly defined, the rejection would be obviated.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 1 and dependent claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim is vague and indefinite because it is not clear if the claim encompasses all hydroxyalkylcarbamate formulae or the claim is limited to the specific structural formulae of the specification.

Claim 1 needs to depict the formula of the hydroxyalkylcarbamate composition which is being claimed because numerous structural formulae of hydroxyalkylcarbamate compounds may read on the instant invention.

By inserting the formula of the hydroxyalkylcarbamate which appears on page 4 of the specification into the claim, the rejection would be obviated.

Additionally, the expression "with from about," (line 6, claim 1 and line 2, claim 5) is idiomatic. It is suggested that "with" and "about" be deleted from the claim language.

Art Unit: 1626

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Blank et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,520,167).

Applicants claim a method for preparing hydroxy alkyl carbamate compositions comprising reacting an anhydrous ammonia or aqueous ammonium hydroxide and a cyclic carbonate depicted in claim 1.

Blank et al., '167' discloses for the same purpose methods which generically correspond to the claimed composition as note Column 1, lines 1-12, Column 2, lines 54-56. The difference between the instant composition and Blank et al. is that Blank et al. teach the use of a five membered cyclic carbonate reacting with an amine whereas the instant method requires a six membered cyclic carbonate. However, Blank also teaches that the claimed hydroxy alkyl carbamate can be obtained by a reaction between a six membered cyclic carbamate and a primary amine.

See column 3, lines 59-61.

The claimed compositions would be obvious from the homologous compounds of the reference in the absence of any unobvious or unexpected properties especially since one of ordinary skill in the art would expect that compounds so closely related structurally would have the same or virtually the same properties. Moreover, the reference would further suggest the claimed compositions by the teaching at Column 3, lines 59-61 that a six membered ring cyclic carbonate is reacted with a primary amine to obtain the instant composition.
